New York, Aug. 26 .- Peerless Scout Arthur Irwin, of the Yankees is back in town with the signatures of some of the of his team last spring. Like Bert inning. Score: Daniels, he attends a degree foundry that frowns on professional summer ball. For Norfolk..... that reason he is playing under an assumed name.

Ryan has only been playing professional ball a little over four weeks. He induced the Norfolk people to give him a tryout Bess than a month ago. He caught on Mary Davis Takes Amsterdam Sellimmediately and has been their one best bet ever since. In all, he has pitched

Ryan is a big husky youngster now and as he is only just past twenty, the chances are that he'll take on even more weight. At present he stands six feet one in his stockings and weighs in the neighborhood of 185 pounds. Irwin says he's the best young pitcher he has seen in years. It will be remembered that big Jim Vaughn made the reputation that finally landed him a job with the Yankees while playing in this same Vir-

Ryan is a football star as well as a great pitcher. He wants to put in another season on the gridiron, and rather than take a chance of being protested as a professional, he will not join the Yanks until next spring. There is another glant cub coming, though, who will probably be seen in a Yankee uniform by the latter part of next week. He'll come through before two more weeks have passed, anyhow.

This babe in arms is a puny weakling, with only six-foot-two of muscle. He tips the scales at about the same figure as Ryan. This is Caldwell, of the Mc-Keesport club of the Ohio and Pennsylvania League. His club is only about half a game behind the leaders, and the management will not let him go until the pennant is decided. The O. P. season closes on Labor Day, so we'll not have long to wait for a peep at him.

Caldwell is a right-hand pitcher, recognized as the best in his league, but bats left-handed. For a pitcher, he's a mighty handy sticker. Irwin, who is as sure a judge of pitchers as there is in the country, expects both Caldwell and Ryan to be regular Yankee pitchers next Caldwell is such a powerful chap that he thinks nothing of working three or four times a week. Only last Saturday he worked through both halves of a double-header, going eighteen innings in all. He won his first game, 6 to 0, but was beaten, 5 to 3, in the second.

Chicago, Aug. 26.-The Chicago Cubs peat the Giants again this afternoon, but they had to break all records to do it. The final score was 3 to 1. Chicago smashed all precedents when all of its runs were scored by home-run hits. But one Chicago player was left on base, and but five reached first. That shows what a splendid game Drucke pitched. He deserved to win, and nothing but the unprecedented circumstances that turned up during the game prevented him from getting what he deserved. Schulte got two home runs and Tinker one.
